General Prediction (Based on Varsh-Pravesh Chart) for Year : 2024

Miss Smita Shah, we state here below the general predictions, based on your Varsh Pravesh Chart, given for the year. This prediction is stated House-wise, covering the effects of planet occupying the respective house. If this planet is aspected by any other planet, the effects of the same are also stated. In addition to this, if more than one planets are in conjunction (yuti i.e. planets occupying the same house), the combined resultant effects are also mentioned. It may, please, be noted that these predictions would be more evident during the Mahadasha and Antardasha periods of the relevant planets.

In this year, your Muntha is in second house, which brings you very good prospects. You are destined to increase your income. You would also gain good wealth and fame in your region, high respect in your community and proper support from your superiors or the government. Your liking for sweets and delicious foods would make you hefty, strong and happy.

In this year, if you snatch the opportunity to exhibit your religious faith and remain sincere, you can expect all the happiness related to your family as well as good amenities. During this year, you are advised to be very faithful to your religion as well as to your ethics, as this would become the deciding factor of your happiness.

During this period, you would be successful to overpower your opponents and you will get reward from your superiors or the government. You will also improve your health. If you are married, your married life also would be happier during this period. This would be more prevalent during the varsha-dasha of Sun.

This year is scheduled to bring you happiness in many ways. You will earn good money and / or property from your family or organization. If the phase of your age permits, you are likely to be endowed with a son and your married life / family life would be quite happy. You can expect the addition of some vehicle or some such facility. This would be more evident during the varsha-dasha of Moon.

During this year, you are likely to face several difficulties, such as disputes with your friends, disturbance in your family or unnecessary toiling and moiling. You may also experience some kind of dismay with respect to your vehicles or creatures or with any such facility. This would be more evident during the varsha-dasha of Mars.

In this year, you would involve in many religious and benevolent activities, which would fetch good wealth in your business or profession and will bring happy family life for you. This would be more evident during the varsha-dasha of Mercury.

This year would bring you more wealth, vehicles, fame and land. You would really enjoy the happiness of family life, along with your son or juniors, if any. This would be more evident during the varsha-dasha of Jupiter.

This year comes with a warning to you. You should take utmost care against any type of fire and any type of unfair means, which would increase your opponents. You may temporarily experience some gain in income but basically you will become unhappy with your family life. This would be more prevalent during the varsha-dasha of Venus.

In this year, you are likely to have pain in your mouth or eyes. You are advised to avoid conflict with your superiors and government, as it may lead you to heavy expenses. You may also face certain worries in respect of your family members. This would be more evident during the varsha-dasha of Saturn.

In some phase of this year, you may gain wealth. But if it is gained by unethical means through bad people, you would become sad in your heart. You should take proper care of your eyes and mouth against any kind of infections.

Final Tips

Dear Miss Smita Shah We are pretty sure that, with these predictions, most of your curiosities and eagerness must have been tranquilized. We also expect you to become mentally seasoned to sustain the shocks and enjoy the joys. However, we provide here bellow the Important TIPS.

(1) How to get best out of your Horoscope?

We would suggest that, after thorough study of these predictions, you should judiciously select the favorable periods, to apply your diligent efforts and obtain the multiplied fruitful results. On availing one such opportunity, when you obtain the amazing success, you would realize, what precious guidelines are available in this horoscope, and how frequently you can avail during your life span.

(2) In case of Contradictions, what is correct?

It is also likely that, in case of certain predictions, you might become confused due to some contradictions. In such cases, we would like to explain that, probably, you would experience these different results at different times. Alternatively, you may experience the mixed resultant, in proportion of the strength of the concerned planets or situations. Along with the prediction, we have tried to mention the name of the planet or the situation causing the said effects. From this, you would be able to judge the extent or timings of the events, which may occur during dasha or varsh-dasha of the respective planet.

(3) In case of Absurd or Impossible Predictions, what to interpret?

It is also not unlikely that, certain dasha or varsh-dasha predictions may look absurd or impossible. As an example, the prediction, "Your spouse may become sick." would look wrong, when you are not even married or are just a child! But, even then, it is likely that your spouse-to-be, wherever is, would become sick, in that period. This cannot be ascertained, unless research work is done. However, you can overlook such predictions.

(4) For correct predictions, who gets the credit?

If you are really impressed and satisfied with all these predictions, all the credit we should pass on to the enormously deep study, meticulous calculations and the marvelous analysis, done by the past renowned stalwarts of Indian astrology. Particularly because, we have only tried to compile and computerize the inherited rich treasure of Indian Astrological Knowledge, whatever is available to us.

(5) What is the precision of the Predictions?

This does not mean that you should blindly bank upon these predictions, taking them 100% correct. In this computer age, in case of computer aided scientific designs also, Safe Stress considered is hardly 25% to 30% of the yield point. Hence, you should not be upset, if any solitary prediction goes very wrong. Rather, it should be taken as a matter of research, where you can contribute by providing us the facts, after ensuring that your birth data are absolutely correct. We would appreciate and request you to state full details with absolute facts, regarding the predictions, you have found to be very correct, as well as those found absolutely wrong. This would be considered your honorary contribution towards our efforts in research.

(6) Last but not the least tip:

You should never lose your full faith and deep devotion to The Almighty Power, in whichever name, form or concept, you perceive. This can overrule your destiny, just like in case of Satyavan-Savitri and Bhakta Prahlad, particularly if your devotion is sincere and pious.
